

Academic discipline "Introduction to Slavic Philology"

Place of the discipline in the structural scheme of the educational program	Bachelor's degree program (general higher education) Specialty: 6-05-0232 -02 Russian Philology. Cycle of special disciplines: state component *
Summary	Slavic peoples and their languages (general characteristics). Basics of the relationship of Slavic languages. Life of the Slavs during the period of the clan system. The question of the time and place of the formation of the Slavs. Formation of the first Slavic states. Slavic states in the 12th-15th centuries. The concept of the Proto-Slavic language. The main phonetic differences between the Slavic languages. Graphic features of the Glagolitic alphabet. Origin of the Cyrillic alphabet. History of Slavic paleography. Historical roots, main stages of development of the religion of the ancient Slavs. Folk calendar. Socio-political prerequisites for the spread of Christianity among the Slavs. Formation and main features of the common East Slavic language. The official written language of the Grand Duchy of Lithuania. Chronology of the development of the East Slavic languages. West Slavic languages. Main features of West Slavic languages. Writing of modern West Slavic languages. South Slavic peoples in the Middle Ages. South Slavic peoples in the Ottoman Empire. Main features of South Slavic languages. Slavic philology before the beginning of the 19th century. Development of Slavic studies at the present stage.
Formed competencies, learning outcomes	Basic professional competencies: know : the position of the Slavic language in the Indo-European language family; the relationship of the Slavic language with other closely related and non-closely related languages; the linguistic picture of the world in the mind of a speaker of the studied Slavic language; the history of research into the studied language; be able to : apply the knowledge gained in the course in the process of studying other language disciplines; attribute a text written in a Slavic language based on its external features; own : scientific linguistic terminology reflecting the patterns of formation and development of individual nations and national related languages.
Prerequisites	Old Church Slavonic language.
Labor intensity	3 credits, 90 academic hours, including 42 classroom hours: 26 hours of lectures and 16 hours of practical classes.
Semester(s), requirements and forms of current and midterm assessment	1st semester, test, credit.